2. Introduction
This document describes the terms and conditions of use of Navy Federal’s Zelle service offering, which consists of two types of payment services: the Zelle Payment Service and Other Payment Services (together, called the “Zelle and Other Payment Services”). This is a contract (hereinafter “Agreement”) between you and Navy Federal in connection with the Zelle and Other Payment Services offered through the Site. This Agreement includes, and your use of the Zelle and Other Payment Services is subject to, the terms of the Important Disclosures (NFCU 606); Mobile Banking, Online Banking, and Bill Pay Terms and Conditions (NFCU 652A); and Debit Card Disclosure (NFCU 210AB) that apply to your use of the Zelle and Other Payment Services and the portion of the Site through which the Zelle and Other Payment Services are offered.

3. Service Providers
We are offering you the Zelle and Other Payment Services through one or more Service Providers that we have engaged to render some or all of the Zelle and Other Payment Services to you on our behalf. However, notwithstanding that Navy Federal has engaged such a Service Provider to render some or all of the Zelle and Other Payment Services to you, Navy Federal would be the sole party liable to you for any payments or transfers conducted using the Zelle and Other Payment Services, and Navy Federal would be solely responsible to you and any third party to the extent of any liability attached in connection with the Zelle and Other Payment Services. You agree that Navy Federal has the right to delegate to Service Providers all the rights and performance obligations that Navy Federal has under this Agreement, and that the Service Providers will be third-party beneficiaries and entitled to all the rights and protections that this Agreement provides to Navy Federal.

4. Description of the Zelle and Other Payment Services
We have partnered with the Zelle Network® (“Zelle”) to enable a convenient way for Users to transfer money between them using email addresses and mobile phone numbers (“Zelle Payment Service,” as further described below). Zelle provides no deposit account, meaning you cannot establish a bank account with Zelle. Zelle facilitates the transfer of money by a Network Financial Institution; it does not transfer or move money. The Zelle Payment Service enables you: (1) to initiate a payment from an Eligible Transaction Account to a person with an Eligible Transaction Account (“Eligible Person”) who is or becomes a User; and/or (2) to receive a payment from a User into an Eligible Transaction Account, in U.S. dollars.

THE ZELLE AND OTHER PAYMENT SERVICES ARE INTENDED TO SEND MONEY TO FRIENDS, FAMILY, AND OTHERS YOU TRUST. YOU SHOULD NOT USE THE ZELLE PAYMENT SERVICE OR OTHER PAYMENT SERVICES TO SEND MONEY TO RECIPIENTS WITH WHOM YOU ARE NOT FAMILIAR OR WHOM YOU DO NOT TRUST.

In addition to the Zelle Payment Service, we provide “Other Payment Services” under this Agreement. Other Payment Services are not sent via Zelle and allow you to send money to people if you provide their Eligible Transaction Account information. Additionally, you can establish a one-time payment for a later specified date up to one (1) year in advance, and you can also establish a recurring series of payments on dates you specify. Except as otherwise stated in this Agreement, if the scheduling of future-dated payments and recurring payments is made using an email address or a U.S. mobile phone number for the recipient, on the payment date, the payment will be processed as part of the Zelle Payment Service. If the scheduling of future-dated payments and recurring payments is made using an Eligible Transaction Account number, on the payment date, the payment will be processed as part of the Other Payment Services.

The Zelle and Other Payment Services enable you: (1) to initiate a Payment Request from an Eligible Transaction Account to an Eligible Transaction Account; and/or (2) to receive a payment from another person into an Eligible Transaction Account, in U.S. dollars. All payments must be made through the Site and are subject to the terms of this Agreement and applicable laws and regulations, in each case as in effect from time to time. In some instances, Zelle payments may be made, accepted, or requested through other locations besides our Site, such as the Zelle mobile application, and those payments shall be subject to the terms of other agreements. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the Zelle and Other Payment Services are generally available twenty-four (24) hours, seven (7) days a week with the exception of outages for maintenance or circumstances beyond our or Zelle’s control.

The Zelle Payment Service allows for the delivery of payments to Users through a Payment Network designed to deliver payments typically within minutes, although actual speed will vary. The Zelle and Other Payment Services are not instantaneous, and your payment delivery speed is dependent upon several factors, including whether an activated debit card is associated with your Eligible Transaction Account, the funds availability policy of each financial institution, and Payment Network availability. Payments that are sent using the Other Payment Services typically will be sent within three (3) days or less or on a future date if designated by you on the Site.

5. Enrolling for the Zelle and Other Payment Services

You must enroll to use your checking account with the Zelle and Other Payment Services through the Site. In order to enroll for these Zelle and Other Payment Services, you must have enrolled an email address that you regularly use and intend to continue using regularly and a U.S. mobile phone number that you intend to use for an extended period of time (i.e., no disposable or “burner” phone numbers) on our Site. You may not enroll in the Zelle and Other Payment Services with a landline phone number, a Google Voice number, or Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP). If at any time while you are enrolled, you do not send or receive money using the Zelle and Other Payment Services for a period of eighteen (18) consecutive months, we may terminate your use of the Zelle and Other Payment Services, and you will not be able to send or receive money with the Zelle and Other Payment Services until you enroll again. Once enrolled, a Z logo will appear on your profile picture for each U.S. mobile number and/or email address that you have enrolled with Zelle. The Z logo will be displayed to other Users to aid them in determining which of your U.S mobile numbers or email addresses should be used to send money with Zelle. If a User sends you money using a different U.S. mobile number or email address that they may have for you (one that is not already enrolled), you will receive a message with instructions on how to enroll with Zelle.
When you enroll to use the Zelle and Other Payment Services, or when you permit others to whom you have delegated to act on your behalf to use or access the Zelle and Other Payment Services, you agree to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. You represent that you are at least eighteen (18) years of age and you have the authority to authorize debits and credits to your Eligible Transaction Account. You agree that you will not use the Zelle and Other Payment Services to send money to anyone to whom you are obligated for tax payments, payments made pursuant to court orders (including court-ordered amounts for alimony or child support), fines, payments to loan sharks, gambling debts, or payments otherwise prohibited by law, and you agree that you will not use the Zelle and Other Payment Services to request money from anyone for any such payments. The Zelle and Other Payment Services are intended for personal, not business or commercial use, with the exception of certain businesses that have been approved by Zelle. You agree that you will not use the Zelle and Other Payment Services to send or receive payments in connection with your business or commercial enterprise. We reserve the right to decline your enrollment if we believe that you are enrolling to use the Zelle and Other Payment Services with your business account. We further reserve the right to suspend or terminate your use of the Zelle and Other Payment Services if we believe that you are using the Zelle and Other Payment Services for business or commercial purposes. Your enrollment may not be completed if we cannot verify your identity or other necessary information. By enrolling for the Zelle and Other Payment Services, you agree that we reserve the right to request a review of your credit rating at our own expense through an authorized credit bureau.

By providing us with names, bank account information, and other contact information for Receivers to whom you wish to direct a payment via the Other Payment Services, you authorize us to follow the Payment Requests that we receive via the Other Payment Services.

Once enrolled, you authorize us to debit your checking account to send money to another Eligible Person either at your initiation or at the request of that User, and to credit your account when you receive money from another User either at that User’s initiation or at your request, subject to the conditions of the Section below titled “Requesting Payments.” We do not guarantee the identity of any Users of the Zelle and Other Payment Services, including recipients to whom you send payments or those sending money to you.

6. Sending Payments
The Zelle and Other Payment Services are designed for you to send money to a person or a Zelle-approved business, either at your initiation or in response to another User’s request for money. You understand that use of the Zelle and Other Payment Services by you shall at all times be subject to this Agreement. You understand that when you send payments using the Zelle Payment Service, you will have no ability to stop them. When you initiate a Payment Request, the recipient is not required to accept the payment if he or she has not enrolled in Zelle. You agree that you will not hold us liable for any damages resulting from a recipient’s decision to not enroll in Zelle. For the Zelle Payment Service, you may only cancel a payment if the person to whom you sent the money has not yet enrolled in Zelle. As to the Zelle Payment Service, if the person you sent money to has already enrolled with Zelle, then the money is sent directly to their Eligible Transaction Account (except as otherwise provided below) and may not be canceled or revoked. Cancellation is addressed more generally as to the Other Payment Services in “Payment Cancellation, Stop Payment Requests, and Unaccepted Payments” below.

You may send a one-time Payment Request to a recipient for which processing shall be initiated immediately via Zelle. Via the Other Payment Services, you may also initiate (a) a one-time Payment Request to a recipient for which processing shall be initiated at a later specified date up to one (1) year, and (b) a recurring series of Payment Requests to a recipient for which processing shall be initiated on the specified dates. Although payments sent via the Zelle Payment Services generally cannot be stopped, Other Payment Services may be stopped in accordance with “Payment Cancellation, Stop Payment Requests, and Unaccepted Payments” below.

Payment Requests are processed in one of two ways: as Zelle Payment Service payments or as Other Payment Services payments. For the Zelle Payment Service, you can provide the recipient’s email address and/or U.S. mobile telephone number, and if the recipient has not yet enrolled in Zelle, then the Zelle Payment Service will contact the recipient and request the recipient to provide (i) information so that the identity of the recipient may be validated with the Zelle Payment Service, and (ii) bank account information in order to complete the Payment Request, even if the recipient does not bank at a Network Financial Institution. If the recipient maintains a bank account with a Network Financial Institution, the recipient may access the Zelle Payment Service through his or her financial institution’s website or mobile application to complete the Payment Request and receive the payment. If the recipient has already enrolled in Zelle, then the recipient will receive a message regarding your payment, unless the recipient has opted out of receiving messages.

For Other Payment Services, you can provide the recipient’s account and routing number, and other contact information for the recipient; such transactions are not sent via Zelle.

By providing us with names, mobile phone numbers, and/or email addresses of recipients to whom you wish to send a payment, you authorize us to initiate a payment through the Zelle Payment Service. When we initiate a payment on your behalf, you authorize us to debit your Eligible Transaction Account for the amount of any such payment and to send funds to the Eligible Person’s financial institution. If you have an activated Navy Federal Debit Card, your payment will be processed as a debit card transaction. If you do not have an activated Navy Federal Debit Card, your payment will be sent as an ACH transaction.

You acknowledge and agree that if your Payment Request identifies an account by account holder name and account number, the relevant financial institution may execute that Payment Request by reference to the account number only, even if such account number does not correspond to the account holder’s name. You further acknowledge and agree that financial institutions holding the account may choose to not investigate discrepancies between account names and account numbers. We have no responsibility to investigate discrepancies between account names and account numbers, outside of our obligations under the law to investigate errors. It is the responsibility of you and the recipient to ensure the accuracy of any information entered into the Zelle and Other Payment Services (including, but not limited to, the amount of Payment Requests and name, mobile phone number, and/or email address for the recipient to whom you are attempting to send a payment), and for informing us as soon as possible if you or the recipient become aware that this information is inaccurate. We will make a reasonable effort to stop or recover a payment made to the wrong person or entity once informed, but we do not guarantee such stoppage or recovery and will bear no responsibility or liability for damages resulting from incorrect information entered by you or the recipient.

When you initiate a Payment Request to an Eligible Person whose financial institution receiving the funds requires an Eligible Person to affirmatively accept each payment, the recipient is not required to accept the payment. You agree that you will not hold us liable for any damages resulting from a recipient’s decision to accept or not to accept a payment. If you are attempting to send money to another person using their routing and account information, the funds may be deposited directly into their account without them being notified by us or their financial institution.

For Eligible Persons not enrolled in Zelle, you acknowledge and agree that we will begin the funds transfer process once the recipient has provided (or we otherwise obtain) all required information, and you hereby authorize and direct us to retain such funds until the earlier of such time as the recipient has provided (or we otherwise obtain) all required information or up to fourteen (14) days. If we do not obtain all required information from the recipient in order to complete the Payment Request by the fourteenth (14th) day, we will return such funds to your Eligible Transaction Account.

We will use reasonable efforts to complete all your Payment Requests properly. If we do not complete a Payment Request on time (subject to the terms in this Agreement) in the amount you entered, or to the recipient you entered, as described in this Agreement, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, we shall incur no liability if we are unable to complete any transaction because of the existence of any one or more of the following circumstances:

- If, through no fault of ours, you do not have sufficient funds in your Eligible Transaction Account, including overdraft protection you may have (Optional Overdraft Protection Service (OOPS) or Checking Line of Credit (CLOC)), or sufficient funds in your linked savings account to complete the Payment Request;
- The Zelle and Other Payment Services are down or otherwise not working properly and you know or have been advised about the malfunction before you execute the Payment Request;
- The payment is refused as described below in Section 22 (Prohibited Payments);
- You have not provided us with the correct name, email address, mobile phone number, or account information of the recipient to whom you are initiating a Payment Request;
- Circumstances beyond our control (such as, but not limited to, fire, flood, Payment Network, or other financial institution issues) prevent the proper execution of the Payment Request; and/or
- The funds in your account are subject to legal process or holds, such as garnishment or attachment, or if the account is subject to a pledge or security agreement.
a. Zelle Payment Service. You understand Zelle Payment Service payments are electronic funds transfers using any debit card associated with your Eligible Transaction Account, including your joint account owner’s debit card. All Navy Federal Debit Cards are issued in conjunction with United States domestic deposit accounts, not United States territory-based accounts. Your Eligible Transaction Account must have an activated debit card to send and/or receive payments via the Zelle Payment Service. You also understand that when you send a payment via the Zelle Payment Service, you will generally have no ability to stop it (you may be able to stop the payment from being sent if the payment is put in a pending status for some reason, for example, suspected fraudulent activity). For payments via the Zelle Payment Service, you can initiate a Payment Request using the recipient’s email address or mobile phone number, and the Zelle Payment Service will validate the Zelle payments eligibility of the recipient prior to transferring the funds. Not all financial institutions participate in the Zelle Network and would not be able to participate in payments using Zelle.

In most cases, when you are sending money using a Zelle payment, the payment will arrive in minutes; however, there are circumstances when the payment may take longer. For example, in order to protect you, us, Zelle, and the other Network Financial Institutions, we may need additional time to verify the identity of the Users. If you are attempting to send money via the Zelle Payment Service to someone who has not enrolled as a User with either Zelle or a Network Financial Institution, they will receive a text or email notification instructing them on how to enroll to receive the money. A Zelle Payment Service transfer may take up to three (3) Business Days from the day the intended recipient responds to the payment notification by enrolling as a User. If they fail to enroll with Zelle, or otherwise ignore the payment notification, the transfer may not occur. The money may also be delayed or the transfer may be blocked to prevent fraud or comply with regulatory requirements. If we delay or block a payment that you have initiated, we will notify you by email or text message and may request you or the recipient to take additional action. We have no control over the actions of other Users, other Network Financial Institutions, or other financial institutions that could delay or prevent your money from being delivered to the intended User. If your Payment Request is not eligible for Zelle, including if you have reached your 30-Day Limit, the Site will not display “Send Now”.

b. Other Payment Services. For Other Payment Services, you understand and agree that when you initiate a Payment Request from an Eligible Transaction Account, the payment will either be an ACH or debit card transaction, which will debit your Eligible Transaction Account as early as the day you initiate the payment. Other Payment Services will generally be sent as debit card transactions. If you do not have an activated debit card, they will be sent as ACH transactions. Other Payment Services may also be sent as ACH transactions to prevent fraud or comply with regulatory requirements. However, you and the recipient should not expect the payment to be transferred to the Eligible Person’s account any earlier than the next Business Day after you initiated the Payment Request. As part of the Other Payment Services, if you request a one-time Payment Request to be initiated on a specified date or a recurring series of Payment Requests to be initiated on specified dates, then the processing of the Payment Request(s) will begin on the specified date(s) and the debiting of your Eligible Transaction Account will occur as early as the specified date(s). However, you and the recipient should not expect the funds to be transferred into the recipient’s bank account any earlier than the next Business Day following the specified date. In addition, the deposit of the funds into the recipient’s bank account (even if debited or withdrawn from your Eligible Transaction Account) may be delayed if the recipient has not enrolled in Zelle. The Site may contain additional information regarding the delivery of a payment to a recipient’s bank account.

c. Overdraft Protection. It is important to understand that your checking account has two kinds of balances: the Available Balance and the Current Balance.

The Available Balance indicates the amount of funds available for withdrawal or use at that moment. The Available Balance includes pending transactions that have been authorized but may not yet have been processed (posted), such as Zelle transactions and debit card Point of Sale (POS) transactions, online transfers, automated teller machine (ATM) transactions, or pending deposits, but does not include items such as scheduled Bill Pay transactions, deposits with holds on them, and checks that have been written but that have not yet cleared your account.

The Current Balance is calculated after all transactions have posted to your account after the end of the Business Day (Eastern Time). We first process (post) all money coming in to your account (credits, deposits, etc.). See Funds Availability Policy (NFCU 668) and the Mobile Check Deposit User Agreement at navyfederal.org. After those are processed, we process (post) all money coming out of your account (debits, withdrawals, etc.) in a pre-determined order. The following frequently used debit transactions are processed in groups in this order: (1) Branch withdrawals; (2) ATM withdrawals; (3) Debit card, Zelle payments sent via debit card, or POS transactions that merchants have presented to us for payment; (4) Transfers from one Navy Federal account to another; (5) ACH or Other Payment Services sent via ACH; and (6) Checks. When more than one transaction from a group is processed on the same day, the items will be processed in the order of lowest to highest amount within that group of transactions.

When using the Zelle and Other Payment Services to initiate a Payment Request, the transaction is authorized based on the Zelle payment type requested (Zelle Payment Service or Other Payment Services) and your Available Balance plus any Checking Protection option (OOPS* or CLOC) you have enrolled in at the time of the transaction. Funds subject to a hold are not necessarily the same funds that are ultimately used to pay for a transaction. Ordinarily, we will not authorize Zelle transactions unless you have sufficient funds available in your checking account plus any Checking Protection option you may have. Please note you must choose the types of transactions that are covered when opting into OOPS. See Optional Overdraft Protection Service Disclosures (NFCU 657) and our Checking Line of Credit Agreement (NFCU 123) at navyfederal.org.

*If you want OOPS protection for Payment Requests, you must authorize OOPS to cover both ACH transactions as well as debit card transactions. You can enroll in OOPS by Please note, however, that even though a transaction has been authorized, it still might result in an overdraft if you initiate other transactions that are processed before it. So, do not consider a transaction authorization as a guarantee there will be sufficient funds in your account to cover the transaction when it posts.

On the day a Zelle transaction is processed/posts (which may not be the day it was initiated), if the transaction exceeds your Current Balance after all items have posted, your account will be overdrawn, and you will be responsible for the negative balance. To avoid overdrafts, you should ensure that your Current Balance (which may differ from your Available Balance) has sufficient funds to cover transactions at the time those transactions post to your account. If you have enrolled in a Checking Protection option, you may be assessed fees or interest. If your checking account goes into an overdrawn status (including OOPS fees) and funds are available in the linked savings account, we will transfer all or some of the funds from the savings account to the overdrawn checking account to reduce or eliminate the overdrawn amount, as permitted by law. You agree that we have the right to collect funds owed to us from all your eligible accounts, as well as the available balance on your Checking Protection option (if any), including all accounts of joint owner(s).

7. Receiving Payments
You also authorize us to credit your Eligible Transaction Account for the receipt of payments, whether initiated by you or at the request of a User sending money to you, including, but not limited to, those payments returned to us from recipients to whom you attempted to send payment(s) when those payments are canceled or are returned to you because the processing of the Payment Request could not be completed, whether you accept the payment or not. Once another User initiates a transfer of money to your email address, mobile phone number, or Zelle tag enrolled with the Zelle Payment Service, you as the recipient have no ability to stop the transfer. Certain Other Payment Services payments may be canceled by the Sender as set forth in “Payment Cancellation, Stop Payment Requests, and Unaccepted Payments” below. You agree that we will not be liable in any way for any payments that you may receive, regardless of whether you authorized the Sender to send them to you or are otherwise not entitled to the payment.

You acknowledge and agree that in the event that funds are transferred into your Eligible Transaction Account as a result of a Payment Request and it is determined that such transfer was improper because it was not authorized by the sender, is a Prohibited Payment, or for any other reason, then you hereby authorize us to debit your Eligible Transaction Account an amount equal to the amount of funds improperly transferred to you.

For Zelle Payment Service, you will generally receive money sent to you within minutes. There may be other circumstances when the payment may take longer for the reasons outlined in “Sending Payments”, for example, if we have questions regarding possible fraud in connection with the payment.

For Other Payment Services, you will generally receive money sent to you in one (1) to three (3) Business Days from when the sending financial institution initiates payment. If the sender has an activated debit card but you do not, you will generally receive the funds one (1) Business Day after the Business Day the sending financial institution initiates payment. If the sender does not have an activated debit card, you will not receive the funds until at least three (3) Business Days after the Business Day the sending financial institution initiates payment.

8. Requesting Payments
You may request money from another User through the Zelle Payment Service, and other Users can request money from you. You agree to receive requests for money from other Users. You understand and acknowledge that Users who receive requests for money may reject or ignore them or send a different amount than that requested. Neither we nor Zelle guarantee that you will receive money from other Users by sending a request for money through the Zelle Payment Service.

You agree that you will not use Zelle to: engage in the business of debt collection; to collect money on behalf of others by attempting to use the Zelle Payment Service to request money for the payment or collection of an overdue or delinquent debt; to request money that is owed to another person; or to collect funds that are owed pursuant to a court order. You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Zelle, its owners, directors, officers, agents, and Network Financial Institutions from and against all claims, losses, expenses, damages, and costs (including, but not limited to, direct, incidental, consequential, exemplary, and indirect damages), and reasonable attorney’s fees, resulting from or arising out of any request for money that you send that is related to overdue or delinquent amounts. You agree to receive Zelle requests for money from other Users and only send Zelle requests for money for legitimate and lawful purposes. Zelle requests for money are between the requestor and recipient and are not reviewed or verified by us or by Zelle. Neither we nor Zelle assume responsibility for the accuracy or legality of such requests and do not act as a debt collector on your behalf or on behalf of the sender of a request for money. We reserve the right, but assume no obligation, to terminate your ability to send Zelle requests for money in general, or to specific recipients, if we deem such Zelle requests for money to be potentially unlawful, abusive, offensive, or unwelcome by the recipient.

9. Liability for Unauthorized Transfers
NOTIFY NAVY FEDERAL AT ONCE if you believe:

- your account has been accessed without your authorization;
- your debit card, username, or password has been lost, stolen, compromised, or used or can be used without your authorization;
- someone has transferred or can transfer money from your account without your permission; or
- your statement shows transfers out of your account that you did not make or authorize.

The best way to minimize your possible losses is to take steps to secure the compromise, for example, freeze your debit card and change your username and password, and contact Navy Federal as soon as possible using the contact information in Section 17.

If you do not notify us, you could lose all the money in your account (plus your maximum Checking Protection amount if you enrolled). If the unauthorized Zelle payment was made via ACH, see the Important Disclosures booklet (NFCU 606) for more information.
on your potential liability. If the unauthorized Zelle payment was made via debit card, see the Navy Federal Debit Card Disclosure (NFCU 210AB), which includes Navy Federal’s Zero Liability policy, for more information on your potential liability.

10. Error Resolution
If you think your account statement or transaction history has errors, or if you need more information about a transaction listed on your account statement or transaction history, contact Navy Federal as soon as possible using the contact information in Section 17. You MUST notify us of suspected errors no later than sixty (60) days after we FIRST make available your account statement on which the suspected error appeared. You will need to identify yourself and your account, describe the error or the transaction you are questioning, clearly explain why you believe an error exists or why you need more information, and tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If the Zelle payment you are questioning was made via debit card, see the Navy Federal Debit Card Disclosure (NFCU 210AB) for more information on the error resolution process. c. The Zelle Payment Service may include functionality for you to add a unique alpha-numeric identifier to your registered User profile to be used in lieu of your phone number or email address when sending or receiving money, which will be your “Zelle tag.” You will be limited to one Zelle tag per bank account, and each Zelle tag must have one U.S. mobile phone number or email address associated with it. Your Zelle tag must meet the Content Standards. You may not select a Zelle tag that misleads or deceives other Users of the Zelle Payment Service as to your identity, or otherwise.
