Article I–Eligibility Requirements (Check applicable boxes—See Instructions)

Article II–SEP Requirements (See Instructions)

2. the same percentage of compensation for every employee.
3. limited annually to the smaller of $55,000 for 2018 or $56,000 for 2019* or 25% of compensation.

Purpose of Form

Form 5305-SEP (Model SEP) is used by an employer to make an agreement to provide benefits to all eligible employees under a simplified employee pension (SEP) described in section 408(k).

Do not file Form 5305-SEP with the IRS. Instead, keep it with your records.

For more information on SEPs and IRAs, see Pub. 560, Retirement Plans for Small Businesses (SEP, SIMPLE, and Qualified Plans), and Pub. 590-A, Contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangements, and Pub. 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements.

Instructions to the Employer

Simplified employee pension. An SEP is a written arrangement (a plan) that provides you with an easy way to make contributions toward your employees' retirement income. Under an SEP, you can contribute to an employee's Traditional individual retirement account or annuity (Traditional IRA). You make contributions directly to an IRA set up by or for each employee with a bank, insurance company, or other qualified financial institution. When using Form 5305-SEP to establish an SEP, the IRA must be a Model Traditional IRA established on an IRS form or a master or prototype Traditional IRA for which the IRS has issued a favorable opinion letter. You may not make SEP contributions to a Roth IRA or a SIMPLE IRA. Making the agreement on Form 5305-SEP does not establish an employer IRA described in section 408(c).

When not to use Form 5305-SEP. Do not use this form if you:

1. currently maintain any other qualified retirement plan. This does not prevent you from maintaining another SEP.
2. have any eligible employees for whom IRAs have not been established.
3. use the services of leased employees (described in section 414(n)).
4. are a member of an affiliated service group (described in section 414(m)), a controlled group of corporations (described in section 414(b)), or trades or businesses under common control (described in sections 414(c) and 414(i)), unless all eligible employees of all the members of such groups, trades, or businesses participate in the SEP.
5. will not pay the cost of the SEP contributions. Do not use Form 5305-SEP for an SEP that provides for elective employee contributions even if the contributions are made under a salary reduction agreement. Use Form 5305A-SEP, or a non-model SEP.

Note: SEPs permitting elective deferrals cannot be established after 1996.

Eligible employees. All eligible employees must be allowed to participate in the SEP. An eligible employee is any employee who: (1) is at least 21 years old and (2) has performed “service” for you in at least three of the immediately preceding five years. You can establish less restrictive eligibility requirements, but not more restrictive ones.

Service is any work performed for you for any period of time, however short.

If you are a member of an affiliated service group, a controlled group of corporations, or trades or businesses under common control, service includes any work performed for any period of time for any other member of such group, trades, or businesses.

Excludable employees. The following employees do not have to be covered by the SEP:

1. employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement whose retirement benefits were bargained for in good faith by you and their union
2. non-resident alien employees who did not earn U.S. source income from you, and
3. employees who received less than $600 in compensation during the year.

Contribution limits. You may make an annual contribution of up to 25% of the employee’s compensation or $55,000 for 2018 or $56,000 for 2019 whichever is less. Compensation, for this purpose, does not include employer contributions to the SEP or the employee’s compensation in excess of $275,000 for 2018 or $280,000 for 2019.* If you also maintain a salary reduction SEP contributions to the two SEPs together may not exceed the smaller of $55,000 for 2018 or $56,000 for 2019 or 25% of compensation for any employee.

You are not required to make contributions every year, but when you do, you must contribute to the SEP-IRAs of all eligible employees who actually performed services during the year of the contribution. This includes eligible employees who die or quit working before the contribution is made.

Contributions cannot discriminate in favor of highly compensated employees. Also, you may not integrate your SEP contributions with, or offset them by, contributions made under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA).
If this SEP is intended to meet the top-heavy minimum contribution rules of section 416, but it does not cover all your employees who participate in your salary reduction SEP then you must make minimum contributions to IRAs established on behalf of those employees.

Deducting contributions. You may deduct contributions to an SEP subject to the limits of section 404(h). This SEP is maintained on a calendar-year basis, and contributions to the SEP are deductible for your tax year with or within which the calendar year ends. Contributions made for a particular tax year must be made by the due date of your income tax return (including extensions) for that tax year.

Completing the agreement. This agreement is considered adopted when:
1. IRAs have been established for all your eligible employees;
2. you have completed all blanks on the agreement form without modification;
3. you have given all your eligible employees the following information:
   a. A copy of Form 5305-SEP;
   b. A statement that Traditional IRAs other than the Traditional IRAs into which employer SEP contributions will be made may provide different rates of return and different terms concerning, among other things, transfers and withdrawals of funds from the IRAs.
   c. A statement that, in addition to the information provided to an employee at the time the employee becomes eligible to participate, the administrator of the SEP must furnish each participant within 30 days of the effective date of any amendment to the SEP a copy of the amendment and a written explanation of its effects.
   d. A statement that the administrator will give written notification to each participant of any employer contributions made under the SEP to that participant's IRA by the later of January 31 of the year following the year for which a contribution is made or 30 days after the contribution is made.

Employers who have established an SEP using Form 5305-SEP and have furnished each eligible employee with a copy of the completed Form 5305-SEP, and provided the other documents and disclosures described in the Instructions to the Employer and Information for the Employee, are not required to file the annual information returns, Form 5500, or 5500-EZ for the SEP. However, under Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), this relief from the annual reporting requirements may not be available to an employer who selects, recommends, or influences its employees to choose IRAs into which contributions will be made under the SEP if those IRAs are subject to provisions that impose any limits on a participant's ability to withdraw funds other than restrictions imposed by the Code that apply to all IRAs. For additional information on Title I requirements, see the Department of Labor regulation at 29 CFR 2520.104-48.

Information for the Employee

The information below explains what an SEP is, how contributions are made, and how to treat your employer’s contributions for tax purposes. For more information, see Pub. 560.

Simplified employee pension. An SEP is a written arrangement (a plan) that allows an employer to make contributions toward your retirement. Contributions are made to a Traditional individual retirement account/annuity (Traditional IRA). Contributions must be made to either a Model Traditional IRA executed on an IRS form or a master or prototype Traditional IRA for which the IRS has issued a favorable opinion letter:

An employer is not required to make SEP contributions. If a contribution is made, however, it must be allocated to all eligible employees according to the SEP agreement. The Model SEP (Form 5305-SEP) specifies that the contribution for each eligible employee will be the same percentage of compensation (excluding compensation greater than $275,000 for 2018 or $280,000 for 2019) for all employees.

Your employer will provide you with a copy of the agreement containing participation rules and a description of how employer contributions may be made to your IRA. Your employer must also provide you with a copy of the completed Form 5305-SEP and a yearly statement showing any contributions to your IRA.

All amounts contributed to your IRA by your employer belong to you even after you stop working for that employer.

Contribution limits. Your employer will determine the amount to be contributed to your IRA each year. However, the amount for any year is limited to the smaller of $55,000 for 2018 or $56,000 for 2019,* or 25% of your compensation for that year. Compensation does not include any amount that is contributed by your employer to your IRA under the SEP. Your employer is not required to make contributions every year or to maintain a particular level of contributions.

Tax treatment of contributions. Employer contributions to your SEP-IRA are excluded from your income unless there are contributions in excess of the applicable limit. Employer contributions within these limits will not be included on your Form W-2.

*For 2019 and later years, this amount is subject to annual cost-of-living adjustments. The IRS announces the increase, if any, in a news release, in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, and on the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

Employee contributions. You may make regular IRA contributions to an IRA. However, the amount you can deduct may be reduced or eliminated because, as a participant in a SEP, you are covered by an employer retirement plan.

SEP participation. If your employer does not require you to participate in an SEP as a condition of employment, and you elect not to participate, all other employees of your employer may be prohibited from participating. If one or more eligible employees do not participate and the employer tries to establish an SEP for the remaining employees, it could cause adverse tax consequences for the participating employees.

An employer may not adopt this IRS Model SEP if the employer maintains another qualified retirement plan. This does not prevent your employer from adopting this IRS Model SEP and also maintaining an IRS Model Salary Reduction SEP or other SEP. However, if you work for several employers, you may be covered by an SEP of one employer and a different SEP or pension or profit-sharing plan of another employer.

SEP-IRA amounts—rollover or transfer to another IRA. You can withdraw or receive funds from your SEP-IRA if, within 60 days of receipt, you place those funds in the same or another IRA. This is called a “rollover,” and you are permitted to roll over only one distribution from an IRA (Traditional, SIMPLE, Roth) in a 12-month period, regardless of the number of IRAs you own. However, there are no restrictions on the number of times you may make “transfers” if you arrange to have these funds transferred between the trustees or the custodians so that you never have possession of the funds.

Withdrawals. You may withdraw your employer’s contribution at any time, but any amount withdrawn is includible in your income unless rolled over. Also, if withdrawals occur before you reach age 59½, you may be subject to a tax on early withdrawal.

Excess SEP contributions. Contributions exceeding the yearly limitations may be withdrawn without penalty by the due date (plus extensions) for filing your tax return (normally April 15), but are includible in your gross income. Excess contributions left in your SEP-IRA after that time may have adverse tax consequences. Withdrawals of those contributions may be taxed as premature withdrawals.

Financial institution requirements. The financial institution where your IRA is maintained must provide you with a disclosure statement that contains the following information in plain, non-technical language:

1. The law that relates to your IRA.
2. The tax consequences of various options concerning your IRA.
3. Participation eligibility rules, and rules on the deductibility of retirement savings.
4. Situations and procedures for revoking your IRA, including the name, address, and telephone number of the person designated to receive notice of revocation. This information must be clearly displayed at the beginning of the disclosure statement.
5. A discussion of the penalties that may be assessed because of prohibited activities concerning your IRA.
6. Financial disclosure that provides the following information:
   a. Projects value growth rates of your IRA under various contribution and retirement schedules, or describes the method of determining annual earnings and charges that may be assessed.
   b. Describes whether, and for when, the growth projections are guaranteed, or a statement of the earnings rate and the terms on which the projections are based.

In addition, the financial institution must provide you with a financial statement each year. You may want to keep these statements to evaluate your IRAs' investment performance.

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by section 6103.

The time needed to complete this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is:

Deposits to an IRA are invested in a savings account that earns dividends. The accompanying charts project possible growth assuming, as an example, that a dividend rate of 0.10% per annum, compounded monthly, is paid. All values are computed with the assumption that no interim withdrawals are made. The values are only projections and are not guaranteed; however, Navy Federal has never failed to pay dividends at the rates declared in advance.

IRA Savings and Money Market Savings Accounts: Dividends are a division and distribution of earnings among members after all expenses have been paid and the required amount has been set aside for reserves. Dividend rates are declared prospectively by the Board of Directors in the month preceding the dividend period. These prospective dividend rates may change at the determination of the Board. Navy Federal also provides the annual percentage yield (APY) for each dividend rate declared by the Board. Payment of all dividends is, of course, dependent on the availability of earnings at the end of the period. Dividends are earned from day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal.

Dividends are computed using the monthly balance method which is applied to the full amount in your account and credited the last calendar day of the month in which they are earned. The dividend period is monthly, beginning the first calendar day of the month and ending the last calendar day of the month. The dividend rate and the annual percentage yield may be obtained by calling Navy Federal toll-free in the U.S. at 1-888-842-6328, or visiting us online at navymoneyfederal.org. Fees and charges that may be assessed are disclosed on Navy Federal's current Schedule of Fees and Charges. The first chart projects the cumulative value of an IRA at the end of each of the first five years after establishment of an IRA Savings or IRA Money Market Savings Account. Column A of Charts I and II indicates the projected value of an account assuming an annual contribution of $1,000 at the beginning of each year. Column B of each chart reflects the projected value assuming a one-time rollover (or transfer) contribution of $1,000 is made on the first of the first year and no additional funds are contributed.
Deposits to an IRA are invested in a Certificate that earns dividends. The accompanying charts project possible growth assuming, as an example, that a dividend rate of 0.10% per annum, compounded daily, is paid. All values are computed with the assumption that no interim withdrawals are made. The values are only projections and are not guaranteed; however, Navy Federal has never failed to pay dividends at the rates declared in advance.

Certificate Accounts: Dividends are a division and distribution of earnings among members after all expenses have been paid and the required amount has been set aside for reserves. Dividend rates are declared prospectively by the Board of Directors in the month preceding the dividend period. These prospective dividend rates may change at the determination of the Board. Dividends are computed using the daily balance method by applying the daily periodic rate to the full amount in your account at the end of each day. Dividends are credited the last calendar day of the month in which they are earned. The dividend period is monthly, beginning the first calendar day of the month and ending the last calendar day of the month. The dividend rate and the annual percentage yield may be obtained by calling Navy Federal toll-free in the U.S. at 1-888-842-6328, or visiting us online at navyfederal.org. Fees and charges that may be assessed are disclosed on Navy Federal’s current Schedule of Fees and Charges. The first chart projects the cumulative value of an IRA at the end of each of the first five years after establishment of an IRA Certificate. Column A of Charts III and IV indicates the projected value of an IRA at the end of each of the first five years after establishment of an IRA. Column B of each chart reflects the projected value assuming a one-time rollover (or transfer) contribution of $1,000 is made on the first of the first year and no additional funds are contributed.
IRA Certificates: The IRA Certificate has a minimum balance requirement as shown on your IRA application form and will earn dividends for each monthly dividend period at the dividend rate and APY specified, if held to maturity. If the balance falls below the minimum requirement, the Certificate will be closed and the funds transferred to IRA savings. Dividends are computed from day-to-day deposit to day-of-withdrawal period. Compounded daily, and credited to the IRA Certificate monthly on the last calendar day of the month in which they were earned, unless another dividend distribution option has been chosen. The APY assumes dividends remain in the account until maturity. Early withdrawals reduce earnings. The following charts give a projection of the growth of the value of your IRA by showing the amount available to you at the end of each year. The first chart assumes a contribution of $1,000 is made on the first day of each year to your IRA. The second chart assumes that the only contribution to your IRA is a one-time rollover (or transfer) of $1,000 made on the first day of each year. A loss of dividend penalty may be charged on a withdrawal before the maturity of an IRA Certificate prior to maturity. These projections assume the penalty is either a one-month, a three-month, or a six-month loss of dividends on the entire amount withdrawn.

The Grantor named on the Application is establishing a Traditional individual retirement account under section 408(a) to provide for his or her retirement and for the support of his or her beneficiaries after death. The Trustee named on the Application has given the Grantor the disclosure statement required by Regulations section 1.408-6. The Grantor has assigned the trust account the sum indicated on the Application. The Grantor and the Trustee make the following agreement:

Article I
Except in the case of a rollover contribution described in section 402(c), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 408(d)(3), or 457(e)(16), an employer contribution to a simplified employee pension plan as described in section 408(k), or a recharacterized contribution described in section 408A(d)(6), the Trustee will accept only cash contributions up to $5,500 per year for tax years 2013 through 2018 and $6,000 per year for 2019. For individuals who have reached the age of 50 by the end of the year, the contribution limit is $6,500 per year for tax years 2013 through 2018 and $7,000 per year for 2019. For years after 2019, these limits will be increased to reflect a cost-of-living adjustment, if any.

Article II
The Grantor’s interest in the balance in the trust account is nonforfeitable.

Article III
1. No part of the trust account funds may be invested in life insurance contracts, nor may the assets of the trust account be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund (within the meaning of section 408(a)(6)).
2. No part of the trust account funds may be invested in collectibles (within the meaning of section 408(m)) except as otherwise permitted by section 408(m)(3), which provides an exception for certain gold, silver, and platinum coins, coins issued under the laws of any state, and certain bullion.

Article IV
1. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the distribution of the Grantor’s interest in the trust account shall be made in accordance with the following requirements and shall otherwise comply with section 408(a)(6) and the regulations thereunder, the provisions of which are herein incorporated by reference.
2. The Grantor’s entire interest in the trust account must be, or begin to be, distributed not later than the Grantor’s required beginning date, April 1, following the calendar year in which the Grantor reaches age 70 1/2. By that date, the Grantor may elect, in a manner acceptable to the Trustee, to have the balance in the trust account distributed in: (a) a single sum or (b) payments over a period not longer than the life of the Grantor or the joint lives of the Grantor and his or her designated beneficiary.
3. If the Grantor dies before his or her entire interest is distributed to him or her, the remaining interest will be distributed as follows:
   (a) If the Grantor dies on or after the required beginning date and:
      (i) the designated beneficiary is the Grantor’s surviving spouse, the remaining interest will be distributed over the surviving spouse’s lifetime expectancy as determined each year until such spouse’s death, or over the period in paragraph (a)(ii) below if longer. Any interest remaining after the spouse’s death will be distributed over such spouse’s remaining life expectancy as determined in the year of the spouse’s death and reduced by one for each subsequent year, or if distributions are being made over the period in paragraph (a)(iii) below, over such period.
      (ii) the designated beneficiary is not the Grantor’s surviving spouse, the remaining interest will be distributed over the beneficiary’s remaining life expectancy as determined in the year following the death of the Grantor and reduced by one for each subsequent year, or over the period in paragraph (a)(iii) below if longer.
      (iii) there is no designated beneficiary, the remaining interest will be distributed over the remaining life expectancy of the Grantor as determined in the year of the Grantor’s death and reduced by one for each subsequent year.
   (b) If the Grantor dies before the required beginning date, the remaining interest will be distributed in accordance with (i) below or, if elected or if there is no designated beneficiary, in accordance with (ii) below:
      (i) The remaining interest will be distributed in accordance with paragraphs (a)(i) and (a)(ii) above (but not over the period in paragraph (a)(ii), even if longer), starting by the end of the calendar year following the year of the Grantor’s death. If, however, the designated beneficiary is the Grantor’s surviving spouse, then this distribution is not required to begin before the end of the calendar year in which the Grantor would have reached age 70 1/2. But, in such case, if the Grantor’s surviving spouse dies before distributions are required to begin, then the remaining interest will be distributed in accordance with (a)(iii) above (but not over the period in paragraph (a)(iii), even if longer), over such spouse’s designated beneficiary’s life expectancy, or in accordance with (b) below if there is no such designated beneficiary.
      (b) The remaining interest will be distributed by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Grantor’s death.
4. If the Grantor dies before his or her entire interest has been distributed and if the designated beneficiary is not the Grantor’s surviving spouse, no additional contributions may be accepted in the account.
5. The minimum amount that must be distributed each year, beginning with the year containing the Grantor’s required beginning date, is known as the “required minimum distribution” and is determined as follows:
   (a) The required minimum distribution under paragraph (b) for any year, beginning with the year the Grantor reaches age 70 1/2, is the Grantor’s account value at the close of business on December 31 of the preceding year divided by the distribution period in the uniform lifetime table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9. However, if the Grantor’s designated beneficiary is his or her surviving spouse, the required minimum distribution for a year shall not be more than the Grantor’s account value at the close of business on December 31 of the preceding year divided by the number in the joint and last survivor table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9. The required minimum distribution for a year under this paragraph (a) is determined using the Grantor’s (or, if applicable, the Grantor and spouse’s) attained age (or ages) in the year.
   (b) The required minimum distribution under paragraphs 3(a) and 3(b)(i) for a year, beginning with the year following the year of the Grantor’s death (or the year the Grantor would have reached age 70 1/2, if applicable under paragraph 3(b)(ii)) is the account value at the close of business on December 31 of the preceding year divided by the life expectancy (in the single life table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9) of the individual specified in such paragraphs 3(a) and 3(b)(i).
   (c) The required minimum distribution for the year the Grantor reaches age 70 1/2 can be made as late as April 1 of the following year. The required minimum distribution for any other year must be made by the end of such year.
6. The owner of two or more Traditional IRAs may satisfy the minimum distribution requirements described above by taking from one Traditional IRA the amount required to satisfy the requirement for another in accordance with the Regulations under section 408(a)(6).

Article V
1. The Grantor agrees to provide the Trustee with all information necessary to prepare any reports required by section 408(a) and Regulations sections 1.408-5 and 1.408-6.
2. The Trustee agrees to submit to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and Grantor the reports prescribed by the IRS.

Article VI
Notwithstanding any other articles which may be added or incorporated, the provisions of Articles I through III and this sentence will be controlling. Any additional articles inconsistent with section 408(a) and the related Regulations will be invalid.

Article VII
This Agreement will be amended as necessary to comply with the provisions of the Code and the related Regulations. Other amendments may be made with the consent of the persons whose signatures appear on the Application.

Article VIII
8.01 Definitions: In this part of this Agreement (Article VIII), the words “you” and “your” mean the Grantor, the words “we,” “us,” and “our” mean the Trustee, “Code” means the Internal Revenue Code, and “Regulations” means the Treasury Regulations.
8.02 Notices and Change of Address: Any required notice regarding this IRA will be considered effective when we send it to the intended recipient at the last address which we have in our records. Any notice to be given to us will be considered effective when we actually receive it. You, or the intended recipient, must notify us of any change of address.
8.03 Representations and Responsibilities: You represent and warrant to us that any information you have given or will give us with respect to this Agreement is complete and accurate. Further, you agree that any directions you give us, or action you take will be proper under this Agreement, and that we are entitled to rely upon any such information or directions. If we fail to receive directions from you regarding any transaction, or if we receive ambiguous directions regarding any transaction, or we, in good faith, believe that any transaction requested is in dispute, we reserve the right to take no action until further clarification acceptable to us is received from you or the appropriate government authority. We shall be responsible for losses of any kind that may result from your directions to us or your actions or failures to act, and you agree to reimburse us for any loss we may incur as a result of such directions, actions, or failures to act. We shall not be responsible for any penalties, taxes, judgments, or expenses you incur in connection with your IRA. We have no duty to determine whether your contributions or distributions comply with the Code, Regulations, or this Agreement. We may permit you to appoint, through written notice acceptable to us, an authorized agent to act on your behalf with respect to this Agreement (e.g., attorney-in-fact, executor, administrator, investment manager); however, we have no duty to determine the validity of such appointment or any instrument appointing such authorized agent. We shall not be responsible for losses of any kind that may result from directions, actions, or failures to act by your authorized agent, and you agree to reimburse us for any loss we may incur as a result of such directions, actions, or failures to act by your authorized agent. You will have sixty (60) days after you receive any documents, statements, or other information from us to notify us in writing of any errors or inaccuracies reflected in these documents, statements, or other information. If you fail to do so within 60 days, the documents, statements, or other information shall be deemed correct and accurate, and we shall have no further liability or obligation for such documents, statements, other information, or the transactions described therein.

By performing services under this Agreement, we are acting as your agent. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement, you acknowledge and agree that nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as conferring fiduciary status upon us. We shall not be required to perform any additional services that are not specifically agreed to under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, or as required under the Code and the Regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to IRAs. You agree to indemnify and hold us harmless for any and all claims, actions, proceedings, damages, judgments, liabilities, costs, and expenses, including attorney’s fees arising from or in connection with this Agreement.

To the extent written instructions or notices are required under this Agreement, we may accept or provide such information in any other form permitted by the Code, or applicable Regulations.

8.04 Investment of Amounts in the IRA: Grantor Management of Investment—You have exclusive responsibility and control over the investment of the assets of your IRA. All transactions shall be subject to any and all restrictions or limitations, direct or indirect, which are imposed by our charter, articles of incorporation, or bylaws; any and all applicable federal and state laws and regulations; the rules, regulations, customs, and usages of any exchange, market, or clearing house where the transaction is executed; our policies and practice under this Agreement. After your death, your beneficiary shall have the right to direct the investment of your IRA assets, subject to the same conditions that applied to you during your lifetime under this Agreement (including, without limitation, Section 8.03 of this article). We shall have no discretion to direct any investment in your IRA. We assume no responsibility for rendering investment advice with respect to your IRA, nor will we offer any opinion or judgment to you on matters concerning the value or suitability of any investment or proposed investment for your IRA. In the absence of instructions from you, or if your instructions are not in a form acceptable to us, we shall have the right to hold any uninvested amounts in cash, and we shall have no responsibility to invest uninvested cash unless and until directed by you. We will not exercise the voting rights attached to any shares held by you. We will not exercise any other shareholder rights with respect to investments in your IRA unless you provide timely written directions acceptable to us.

You will select the type of investment for your IRA assets, provided, however, that your selection of investments shall be limited to those types of investments that we are authorized by our charter, articles of incorporation, or bylaws to offer, and do in fact offer for investment in IRAs.

8.05 Beneficiary(ies): If you die before you receive all of the amounts in your IRA, payments from your IRA will be made to your beneficiary(ies).

You may designate one or more persons or entities as beneficiary of your IRA. This designation can only be made on a form provided by or acceptable to us, and it will only be effective when it is filed with us during your lifetime. Unless otherwise specified, each beneficiary designation you file with us will cancel all previous ones. The consent of a beneficiary(ies) shall not be required for you to revoke a beneficiary designation. If you have designated both primary and contingent beneficiaries and no primary beneficiary(ies) survives you, the contingent beneficiary(ies) shall acquire the designated share of your IRA. If you do not designate a beneficiary, or if all of your primary and contingent beneficiary(ies) predecease you, your estate will be the beneficiary.

A spouse beneficiary shall have all rights as granted under the Code or applicable Regulations to treat your IRA as his or her own.

We may allow, if permitted by state law, an original IRA beneficiary(ies) (the beneficiary(ies) who is entitled to receive distribution(s) from an inherited IRA at the time of your death) to name a successor beneficiary(ies) for the inherited IRA. This designation can only be made on a form provided by or acceptable to us, and it will only be effective when it is filed with us during your lifetime. Each original IRA beneficiary(ies) must otherwise be specified, each beneficiary designation form that the original IRA beneficiary(ies) files with us will cancel all previous ones. The consent of a successor beneficiary(ies) shall not be required for the original IRA beneficiary(ies) to revoke a successor beneficiary(ies) designation. If the original IRA beneficiary(ies) does not designate a successor beneficiary(ies), his or her estate will be the successor beneficiary(ies). In no event shall the successor beneficiary(ies) be able to extend the distribution period beyond that required for the original IRA beneficiary.

Required Minimum Distributions: Your required minimum distribution is calculated using the Uniform Lifetime Table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9. However, if your spouse is your sole designated beneficiary and is more than 10 years younger than you, your required minimum distribution is calculated each year using the joint and last survivor table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9.

If you fail to request your required minimum distribution by your required beginning date, we can, at our complete and sole discretion, do any one of the following:

• Make no distribution until you give us a proper withdrawal request;
• Distribute your entire IRA to you in a single sum payment;
• Determine your required minimum distribution from your IRA each year based on your life expectancy, calculated using the Uniform Lifetime Table in Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9, and pay those distributions to you until you direct otherwise.

We will not be liable for any penalties or taxes related to your failure to take a required minimum distribution.

8.07 Termination of Agreement, Resignation, or Removal of Trustee: Either party may terminate this Agreement at any time by giving written notice to the other. We can resign as Trustee at any time effective 30 days after we mail written notice of our resignation to you. Upon receipt of that notice, you must make arrangements to transfer your IRA to another financial organization. If you do not complete a transfer of your IRA within 30 days from the date we mail the notice to you, we have the right to transfer your IRA assets to a successor IRA custodian or trustee that we choose in our sole discretion, or we may pay your IRA to you in a single sum. We shall not be liable for any actions or failures to act on the part of any successor custodian or trustee, if we act in good faith, subject to the limitations provided in the following section of this Agreement.

If this Agreement is terminated, we may charge your IRA a reasonable amount of money that we believe is necessary to cover any associated costs, including but not limited to, one or more of the following:

• Any fees, expenses, or taxes chargeable against your IRA;
• Any penalties or surrender charges associated with the early withdrawal of any savings instrument or other investment in your IRA.

If we are required to comply with Regulations section 1.408–2(e), and we fail to do so, or we are not keeping the records, making the returns, or sending the statements as are required by forms or Regulations, the IRS may, after notifying you, require you to substitute another trustee or custodian.

We may establish a policy requiring distribution of the entire balance of your IRA to your beneficiary in a single sum. We may also establish a policy requiring distribution of the minimum balance required under the applicable investment or policy established.

8.08 Successor Trustee: If our organization changes its name, reorgandizes, merges with another organization (or comes under the control of any federal or state agency), or if our entire organization (or any portion which includes your IRA) is bought by another organization, that organization (or agency) shall automatically become the custodian or custodian of your IRA, but only if it is the type of organization authorized to serve as an IRA trustee or custodian.

8.09 Amendments: We have the right to amend this Agreement at any time. Any amendment we make to comply with the Code and related Regulations does not require your consent. You will be deemed to have consented to any other amendment unless, within 30 days from the date we mail the amendment, you notify us in writing that you do not consent.

8.10 Withdrawals or Transfers: Unless you are instructed otherwise, all requests for withdrawals or transfers shall be in writing on a form provided by or acceptance to us. The method of distribution must be specified. The tax identification number of the recipient must be provided to us before we are obligated to make a distribution. Withdrawals shall be subject to all applicable tax and other laws and Regulations, including possible early withdrawal penalties or surrender charges and withholding requirements.

8.11 Transfers from Other Plans: We can receive amounts transferred to this IRA from the custodian or trustee of another IRA. In addition, we can accept direct rollovers of eligible rollover distributions from employer-sponsored retirement plans as permitted by the Code. We reserve the right not to accept any transfer or direct rollover.

8.12 Liquidation of Assets: We have the right to liquidate assets in your IRA if necessary to make distributions or to pay fees, expenses, taxes, penalties, or surrender charges properly chargeable against your IRA. If you fail to direct us as to which assets to liquidate, we will decide, in our complete and sole discretion, and you agree not to hold us liable for any adverse consequences that result from our decision.

8.13 Restrictions on the Fund: Neither you nor any beneficiary may sell, transfer, or pledge any interest in your IRA in any manner whatsoever, except as provided by law or this Agreement.

The assets in your IRA shall not be responsible for the debts, contracts, or torts of any person entitled to distributions under this Agreement.

8.14 What Law Applies: This Agreement is subject to all applicable federal and state laws and regulations. If it is necessary to apply any state law to interpret and administer this Agreement, the law of our domicile shall govern. If any part of this Agreement is held to be illegal or invalid, the remaining parts shall not be affected. Neither your nor our failure to enforce at any time or for any period of time any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of such provisions, or your right or our right thereafter to enforce each and every such provision.

General Instructions
Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form
Form 5305 is a model trust account agreement that meets the requirements of section 408(a) and has been pre-approved by the IRS. A traditional individual retirement account (Traditional IRA) is established when the form is filed and executed by both the individual (Grantor) and the Trustee and must be completed no later than the due date (excluding extensions) of the individual’s income tax return for the tax year. This account must be created in the United States for the exclusive benefit of the Grantor and his or her beneficiaries.

Do not file Form 5305 with the IRS. Instead, keep it with your records. For more information on IRAs, including the required disclosures the Trustee must give the Grantor, see Pub. 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

Definitions
Trustee. The trustee must be a bank or savings and loan association, as defined in section 408(n), or any person who has the approval of the IRS to act as trustee. Grantor. The grantor is the person who establishes the trust account.

Identifying Number
The Grantor’s Social Security Number will serve as the identifying number of his or her IRA. An employer identification number (EIN) is required only for an IRA for which a return is filed to report unrelated business taxable income. An EIN is required for a common fund created for IRAs.

Traditional IRA for Nonworking Spouse
Form 5305 may be used to establish the IRA trust for a nonworking spouse. Contributions to an IRA trust account for a nonworking spouse must be made to a separate IRA trust account established by the nonworking spouse.

Specific Instructions
Article IV. Distributions made under this article may be made in a single sum, periodic payment, or a combination of both. The distribution option should be reviewed in the year the Grantor reaches age 70 1/2 to ensure that the requirements of section 408(a)(6) have been met.

Article VIII. Article VIII and any that follow may incorporate additional provisions that are agreed to by the Grantor and Trustee to complete the agreement. They may include, for example, definitions, investment powers, voting rights, exculpatory provisions, amendment and termination, removal of the Trustee, Trustee’s fees, state law requirements, beginning date of distributions, accepting only cash, treatment of excess contributions, prohibited transactions with the Grantor, etc. Attach additional pages if necessary.

Disclosure Statement
Right to Revoke Your IRA
If you receive this Disclosure Statement at the time you establish your IRA, you have the right to revoke your IRA within seven (7) days of its establishment. If revoked, you are entitled to a full return of the contribution you made to your IRA. The amount returned to you would not include an adjustment for such items as sales commissions, administrative expenses, or fluctuation in market value. You may make this revocation only by mailing or delivering a written notice to the Trustee at the address listed on the Application.

If you send your notice by first-class mail, your revocation will be deemed mailed as of the postmark date.

We are required to report to the IRS the contributions and distributions from a revoked IRA.

If you have any questions about the procedure for revoking your IRA, please call the Trustee at the telephone number listed on the Application.

Requirements of an IRA
A. Cash Contributions—Your contribution must be in cash unless it is a rollover contribution. Stock certificates will not be allowed.
B. Maximum Contribution—The total amount you may contribute to an IRA for any taxable year cannot exceed the lesser of 100 percent of your compensation or $5,500 for 2018 and $6,000 for 2019 with possible cost-of-living adjustments each year thereafter. If you also maintain a Roth IRA, the maximum contribution to your Traditional IRAs (i.e., IRAs subject to Internal Revenue Code (sections 408(a) or 408(b)) is reduced by any contributions you make to your Roth IRA. Your total annual contribution to all Traditional IRAs and Roth IRAs cannot exceed the lesser of the dollar amounts described above or 100 percent of your compensation.
C. Contribution Eligibility—You are eligible to make a regular contribution to your IRA if you have compensation and have not attained age 70 1/2 by the end of the taxable year for which the contribution is made.
D. Catch-Up Contributions—If you are age 50 or older by the close of the taxable year, you may make an additional contribution to your IRA. The maximum additional contribution is $1,000 per year.
E. Nonforfeitability—Your interest in your IRA is nonforfeitable.
F. Eligible Trustees—The Trustee of your IRA must be a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or a person or entity approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.
G. Commingling Assets—The assets of your IRA cannot be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund.
H. Life Insurance—No portion of your IRA may be invested in life insurance contracts.
I. Collectibles—You may not invest the assets of your IRA in collectibles (within the meaning of Code section 408(m)). A collectible is defined as any work of art, rug or antique, metal or gem, stamp or coin, alcoholic beverage, or other tangible personal property specified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). However, specially minted United States gold and silver coins, and certain state-issued coins are permissible investments. Platinum coins and certain gold, silver, platinum, or palladium bullion (as described in Code section 408(m)) are also permitted as IRA investments.
J. Required Minimum Distributions—you are required to take minimum distributions from your IRA at certain times in accordance with Regulations section 1.408-8. Below is a summary of the IRA distribution rules.

1. You are required to take a minimum distribution from your IRA for the year in which you reach age 70 1/2 and for each year thereafter. You must take your first distribution by your required beginning date, which is April 1 of the year following the year you attain age 70 1/2. The minimum distribution for any taxable year is equal to the amount obtained by dividing the account balance at the end of the prior year by the applicable divisor.

2. The applicable divisor is generally determined using the Uniform Lifetime Table. You are provided by the IRS. The table assumes you are the beneficiary exactly 10 years younger than you, regardless of who is named as your beneficiary(ies), if any. If your spouse is your sole designated beneficiary and is more than 10 years younger than you, the required minimum distribution is determined annually using the actual joint life expectancy of you and your spouse obtained from the joint and last survivor table provided by the IRS, rather than the life expectancy divisor from the Uniform Lifetime Table.

We reserve the right to do any one of the following by April 1 of the year following the year in which you turn age 70 1/2:

(a) Make no distribution until you give us a proper withdrawal request;
(b) Distribute your entire IRA to you in a single sum payment; or
(c) Determine your required minimum distribution each year based on your life expectancy calculated using the Uniform Lifetime Table, and pay those distributions to you until you direct otherwise.
If you fail to remove a required minimum distribution, an additional penalty tax of 50 percent is imposed on the amount of the required minimum distribution that should have been taken but was not. You must file IRS Form 5329 along with your income tax return to report and remit any additional taxes to the IRS.

3. Your designated beneficiary is determined based on the beneficiary(ies) designated as of the date of your death, who remains your beneficiary(ies) as of September 30 of the year following the year of your death. If you die:
   (a) on or after your required beginning date, distributions must be made to your beneficiary(ies) over the longer of the single life expectancy of your designated beneficiary(ies), or your remaining life expectancy. If a beneficiary other than an individual or qualified trust as defined in the Regulations is named, you will be treated as having no designated beneficiary of your IRA for purposes of determining the distribution period. If there is no designated beneficiary of your IRA, distributions will commence using your single life expectancy, reduced by one in each subsequent year.
   (b) before your required beginning date, the entire amount remaining in your account will, at the election of your designated beneficiary(ies), either:
      (i) be distributed by December 31 of the year containing the fifth anniversary of your death, or
      (ii) be distributed over the remaining life expectancy of your designated beneficiary(ies).

If your spouse is your sole designated beneficiary, he or she must elect either option (i) or (ii) by the earlier of December 31 of the year containing the fifth anniversary of your death, or December 31 of the year you would have attained age 70½. Your designated beneficiary(ies), other than a spouse who is the sole designated beneficiary, must elect either option (i) or (ii) by December 31 of the year following the year of your death. If no election is made, distribution will be calculated in accordance with option (ii). In the case of distributions under option (ii), distributions must commence by December 31 of the year following the year of your death. Generally if your spouse is the designated beneficiary, distributions need not commence until December 31 of the year you would have attained age 70½, if later. If a beneficiary(ies) other than an individual or qualified trust as defined in the Regulations is named, you will be treated as having no designated beneficiary(ies) of your IRA for purposes of determining the distribution period. If there is no designated beneficiary of your IRA, the entire IRA will be distributed by December 31 of the year following the year you would have attained age 70½, if later. Your designated beneficiary(ies) must receive the entire IRA by December 31 of the year following the year of your death. If the total balance of the IRA assets is less than $500, Navy Federal will pay out the entire balance to the beneficiary as an immediate lump sum distribution. If no instructions are received from the beneficiary by the deadline as described above, Navy Federal will distribute the entire balance by December 31 of the year following death payable to the beneficiary. This payout is irrevocable and will not be reversed.

A spouse who is the sole designated beneficiary of your entire IRA will be deemed to elect to treat your IRA as his or her own by either (1) making contributions to your IRA, or (2) failing to timely remove a required minimum distribution from your IRA. Regardless of whether or not the spouse is the sole designated beneficiary of your IRA, a spouse beneficiary may roll over his or her share of the assets to his or her own IRA.

If your beneficiary fails to remove a required minimum distribution after your death, an additional penalty tax of 50 percent is imposed on the amount of the required minimum distribution that should have been taken but was not. Your beneficiary must file IRS Form 5329 along with his or her income tax return to report and remit any additional taxes to the IRS.

K. Qualifying Longevity Annuity Contracts and RMDs—A qualifying longevity annuity contract (QLAC) is a deferred annuity contract that, among other requirements, must guarantee lifetime income starting no later than age 85. The total premiums paid to QLACs in your IRAs must not exceed 25 percent (up to $130,000) of the combined value of your IRAs (excluding Roth IRAs). The $130,000 limit is subject to cost-of-living adjustments each year. When calculating your RMD, you may reduce the prior year end account value by the value of QLACs that your IRA holds as investments.

For more information on QLACs, you may wish to refer to the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

Income Tax Consequences of Establishing an IRA

A. IRA Deductibility—If you are eligible to contribute to your IRA, the amount of the contribution for which you may take a tax deduction will depend upon whether you or, in some cases, your spouse) are an active participant in an employer-sponsored retirement plan. If you (and your spouse, if married) are not an active participant, your entire IRA contribution will be deductible. If you are an active participant (or are married to an active participant), the deductibility of your contribution will depend on your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) and your tax filing status for the tax year for which the contribution was made. MAGI is determined on your income tax return using your adjusted gross income but disregarding any deductible IRA contribution.

Definition of Active Participant: Generally, you will be an active participant if you are covered by one or more of the following employer-sponsored retirement plans:

1. A qualified pension, profit sharing, 401(k), or stock bonus plan;
2. A qualified annuity plan of an employer;
3. A simplified employee pension (SEP) plan;
4. A retirement plan established by the federal government, a state, or a political subdivision (except certain unfunded deferred compensation plans under Code section 457);
5. A tax-sheltered annuity for employees of certain tax-exempt organizations or public schools;
6. A plan meeting the requirements of Code section 501(c)(18);
7. A qualified plan for self-employed individuals (H.R. 10 or Keogh Plan); or
8. A savings incentive match plan for employees of small employers (SIMPLE) IRA plan or a SIMPLE 401(k) plan.

If you do not know whether your employer maintains one of these plans or whether you are an active participant in it, check with your employer or your tax advisor. Also, if you file IRS Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, that you receive at the end of the year from your employer will indicate whether you are an active participant.

If you are an active participant and are single, and have MAGI within the applicable phase-out range listed below, the deductible amount of your contribution is determined as follows: (1) begin with the appropriate phase-out range maximum for the applicable year (specified below), and subtract your MAGI; (2) divide this total by the difference between the phase-out range maximum and minimum; (3) multiply this number by the maximum allowable contribution for the applicable year, including catch-up contributions if you are age 50 or older. The resulting figure will be the maximum IRA deduction you may take. For example, if you are age 30 with MAGI of $65,000 in 2019, your maximum deductible contribution is $5,400 (the 2019 phase-out range maximum of $74,000 minus your MAGI of $65,000, divided by the difference between the maximum and minimum phase-out range limits of $10,000, and multiplied by the contribution limit of $6,000).

If you are an active participant, are married to an active participant and you file a joint income tax return, and have MAGI within the applicable phase-out range listed below, the deductible amount of your contribution is determined as follows: (1) begin with the appropriate phase-out range maximum for the applicable year (specified below) and subtract your MAGI; (2) divide this total by the difference between the phase-out range maximum and minimum; (3) multiply this number by the maximum allowable contribution for the applicable year, including catch-up contributions if you are age 50 or older. The resulting figure will be the maximum IRA deduction you may take. For example, if you are age 30 with MAGI of $110,000 in 2019, your maximum deductible contribution is $3,900 (the 2019 phase-out range maximum of $123,000 minus your MAGI of $110,000, divided by the difference between the maximum and minimum phase-out range limits of $20,000, and multiplied by the contribution limit of $6,000).

If you are an active participant, are married, and you file a separate income tax return, your MAGI phase-out range is generally $0-$10,000. However, if you lived apart for the entire tax year, you are treated as a single filer.

*MAGI limits may be subject to cost-of-living increases each year.

The MAGI phase-out range for an individual that is not an active participant, but is married to an active participant, is $189,000-$199,000 for 2018 and $193,000 - $203,000 for 2019. This limit is also subject to cost-of-living increases for tax years after 2019. If you are not an active participant in an employer-sponsored retirement plan, are married to someone who is an active participant, and you file a joint income tax return with MAGI between $193,000 and $203,000 for 2019, you are subject to the same phase-out limits as the active participant. The maximum deductible contribution is $5,400 (the 2019 phase-out range maximum of $74,000 minus your MAGI of $193,000, divided by the difference between the maximum and minimum phase-out range limits of $10,000, and multiplied by the contribution limit of $6,000).

You must round the resulting deduction to the next highest $10 if the number is not a multiple of 10. If your resulting deduction is between $0 and $200, you may round up to $200.

B. Contribution Deadline—The deadline for making an IRA contribution is your tax return due date (not including extensions). You may designate a contribution as a contribution for the preceding taxable year in a manner acceptable to us. For example, if you are a calendar-year taxpayer and you make your IRA contribution on or before your tax filing deadline, your contribution is considered to have been made for the previous tax year if you designate it as such.

If you are a member of the armed forces serving in a combat zone, hazardous duty area, or contingency operation, you may have an extended contribution deadline of 180 days after the last day served in the area. In addition, your contribution deadline for a particular tax year is also extended by the number of days that remained to file the previous year’s tax return as of the date you entered the combat zone. This additional extension to make your IRA contribution cannot exceed the number of days between January 1 and your tax filing deadline, not including extensions.

C. Tax Credit for Contributions—You may be eligible to receive a tax credit for your Traditional or Roth IRA contributions. This credit will be allowed in addition to any tax deduction that may apply, and may not exceed $1,000 in a given year. You may be eligible for this tax credit if you are:

- age 18 or older as of the close of the taxable year;
- not a dependent of another taxpayer; and
- not a full-time student.

The credit is based upon your income (see chart below), and will range from 0 to 50 percent of eligible contributions. In order to determine the amount of your credit, you add all of the contributions made to your Traditional or Roth IRA and reduce these contributions by any distributions that you have taken during the testing period. The testing period begins two years prior to the year for which the credit is sought and ends on the tax return due date (including extensions) for the year for which the credit is sought. In order to determine your tax credit, multiply the applicable percentage from the chart below by the amount of your contributions that do not exceed $2,000.

*Adjusted gross income includes foreign-earned income and income from Guam, American Samoa, North Mariana Islands, and Puerto Rico. AGI limits are subject to cost-of-living adjustments each year.

D. Excess Contributions—An excess contribution is any amount that is contributed to your IRA that exceeds the amount that you are eligible to contribute. If the excess is not corrected timely, an additional penalty tax of six percent will be imposed upon the excess amount. The procedure for correcting an excess is determined by the timeliness of the correction as identified below.

1. Removal Before Your Tax Filing Deadline. An excess contribution may be corrected by withdrawing the excess amount, along with the earnings attributable to the excess, before your tax filing deadline, including extensions, for the year for which the excess contribution was made. An excess withdrawn under this method is not taxable to you as long as you must include the earnings attributable to the excess in your taxable income in the year in which the contribution was made. The six percent excess contribution penalty tax will be avoided.

2. Removal After Your Tax Filing Deadline. If you are correcting an excess contribution after your tax filing deadline, including extensions, remove only the amount of the excess contribution. The six percent excess contribution penalty tax will be imposed on the excess contribution for each year that the excess remains in the IRA. An excess withdrawal under this method will only be taxable to you if the total contributions made in the year of the excess exceed the annual applicable contribution limit.

3. Carry Forward to a Subsequent Year. If you do not withdraw the excess contribution, you may carry forward the contribution for a subsequent tax year. To do so, you under-contribute for that tax year and carry the excess contribution amount forward to that year on your tax return. The six percent excess contribution penalty tax will be imposed on the excess amount for each year that it remains as an excess contribution at the end of the year.

You must file IRS Form 5329 along with your income tax return to report and remit any additional taxes to the IRS.

E. Tax-Deferred Earnings—The investment earnings of your IRA are not subject to federal income tax until distributions are made (or, in certain instances, when distributions are deemed to be made).

F. Nondeductible Contributions—You may make nondeductible contributions to your IRA to the extent that deductible contributions are not allowed. The sum of your deductible and nondeductible IRA contributions cannot exceed your IRA contribution limit (the lesser of the allowable contribution limit described previously, or 100 percent of compensation). You may elect to treat deductible IRA contributions as nondeductible contributions.

If you make nondeductible contributions for a particular tax year, you must report the amount of the nondeductible contribution along with your income tax return using IRS Form 8886. Failure to file IRS Form 8886 will result in a $50 per failure penalty.

If you overstate the amount of designated nondeductible contributions for any taxable year, you are subject to a $100 penalty unless reasonable cause for the overstatement can be shown.

G. Taxation of Distributions—The taxation of IRA distributions depends on whether or not you have ever made nondeductible IRA contributions. If you have only made deductible contributions, any IRA distribution will be fully included in income.

If you have ever made nondeductible contributions to any IRA, the following formula must be used to determine the amount of any IRA distribution excluded from income.

Note: Aggregate nondeductible contributions include all nondeductible contributions made by you through the end of the year of the distribution (which have not previously been withdrawn and excluded from income). An aggregate IRA balance includes all nondeductible contributions made by you through the end of the year of the distribution (which have not previously been withdrawn and excluded from income).

H. Rollovers and Conversions—Your IRA may be rolled over to another IRA in your name, may receive rollover contributions, and may be converted to a Roth IRA, provided that all of the applicable rollover and conversion rules are followed. Rollover is a term used to describe a tax-free movement of cash or other property to your IRA from another IRA, or from your employer’s qualified retirement plan. IRA annuity plan, 403(b) tax-sheltered annuity, or 457(b) eligible governmental deferred compensation plan. Conversion is a term used to describe the movement of Traditional IRA assets to a Roth IRA. A conversion is generally a taxable event. The rollover and conversion rules are summarized below. These transactions are often complex. If you have any questions regarding a rollover or conversion, please see a competent tax advisor.

1. Traditional IRA to Traditional IRA Rollovers: Funds distributed from your Traditional IRA may be rolled over to the same Traditional IRA or another Traditional IRA of yours if the requirements of Code Sec. 408(d)(3) are met. A proper IRA-to-IRA rollover is completed if all or part of the distribution is rolled over not later than 60 days after the distribution is received. In the case of a distribution for a first-time homebuyer where there was a delay or cancellation of the purchase, the 60-day rollover period may be extended to 120 days.

2. SIMPLE IRA to Traditional IRA Rollovers: Funds distributed from your SIMPLE IRA may be rolled over to your IRA without IRS penalty tax provided two years have passed since you first participated in a SIMPLE IRA plan sponsored by your employer. As with Traditional IRA to Traditional IRA rollovers, the requirements of Code Sec. 408(d)(3) must be met. A proper SIMPLE IRA to IRA rollover is completed if all or part of the distribution is rolled over not later than 60 days after the distribution is received.

Effective for distributions taken on or after January 1, 2015, you are permitted to roll over only one distribution from an IRA (Traditional, Roth, or SIMPLE) in a 12-month period, regardless of the number of IRAs you own. A distribution may be rolled over to the same IRA or to another IRA that is eligible to receive the rollover. For more information on rollover limitations, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), from the IRS or refer to the IRS website at www.irs.gov.
3. Employer-Sponsored Retirement Plan to Traditional IRA Rollovers:
You may roll over, directly or indirectly, any eligible rollover distribution from an eligible employer-sponsored retirement plan. An eligible rollover distribution is defined generally as any distribution from a qualified retirement plan (other than a 403(b) annuity contract or 457(b) eligible governmental deferred compensation plan (other than distributions to nonspouse beneficiaries), unless it is part of a certain series of substantially equal periodic payments, a required minimum distribution, or a hardship distribution, or a distribution of Roth 401(k) or Roth 401(b) elective deferrals.

If you elect to receive your rollover distribution prior to placing it in an IRA, your plan administrator will generally be required to withhold 20 percent of your distribution as a payment of income taxes. When completing the rollover, you may make up the amount withheld, out of pocket, and roll over the full amount distributed from your employer-sponsored retirement plan. To qualify as a rollover, your eligible rollover distribution must be rolled over to your IRA not later than 60 days after you receive it. Alternatively, you may claim an exception if within 60 days you caused your account holder to make the appropriate income tax, and if you are under age 59 1/2, the 10 percent early distribution penalty (unless an exception to the penalty applies).

As an alternative to the indirect rollover, your employer generally must give you the option to directly roll over your employer-sponsored retirement plan balance to an IRA. If you elect the direct rollover option, your eligible rollover distribution will be paid directly to the IRA (or other eligible employer-sponsored retirement plan) that you designate. The 20 percent withholding requirements do not apply to direct rollovers.

4. Beneficiary Rollovers from Employer-Sponsored Retirement Plans:
If you are a spouse, nonspouse, or qualified trust beneficiary of a deceased employer plan participant, you may directly roll over inherited assets from a qualified retirement plan, 403(a) annuity, 403(b) tax-sheltered annuity, or 457(b) governmental deferred compensation plan to an inherited IRA. The IRA must be maintained as an inherited IRA, subject to the beneficiary distribution requirements.

5. Traditional IRA to Employer-Sponsored Retirement Plan:
You may rollover, directly or indirectly, any eligible rollover distribution from an IRA to an employer’s qualified retirement plan. 403(a) annuity, 403(b) tax-sheltered annuity, or 457(b) governmental deferred compensation plan as long as the employer-sponsored retirement plan accepts such rollover contributions. An eligible rollover distribution is defined as any taxable distribution from an IRA that is not a part of a required minimum distribution.

6. Traditional IRA to Roth IRA Conversions:
If you convert to a Roth IRA, the amount of the conversion from your Traditional IRA to your Roth IRA will be treated as a distribution for income tax purposes, and is includable in your gross income (except for any nondeductible contributions). Although the conversion amount generally is included in income, the 10 percent early distribution penalty tax will not apply to conversions from a Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA, regardless of whether you qualify for exceptions to the 10 percent penalty tax. If you are age 70 1/2 or older, you must remove your required minimum distribution before converting your Traditional IRA.

7. Qualified HSA Funding Distribution:
If you are eligible to contribute to a health savings account (HSA), you may be eligible to take a one-time tax-free HSA funding distribution from your IRA and directly deposit it to your HSA. The amount of the qualified HSA funding distribution may not exceed the lesser of your HSA contribution limit in effect for the type of high deductible health plan coverage (i.e., single or family coverage) that you have at the time of the deposit, and counts toward your HSA contribution limit for that year. For further detailed information, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 969, Health Savings Accounts and Other Tax-Favored Health Plans.

8. Rollovers of Settlement Payments from Bankrupt Airlines:
If you are a qualified airline employee who has received a qualified airline settlement payment from a commercial airline carrier under the approval of an order of a federal bankruptcy court, you are allowed to roll over up to 90 percent of the proceeds into your Traditional IRA within 180 days after receipt of such amount, or by a later date if extended by federal law. If you make such a rollover contribution, you may exclude the amount rolled over from your gross income in the taxable year in which the order approving the settlement payment was made to you. For further detailed information and effective dates, you may obtain IRS Publication 590-A, Contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRAs), from the IRS or refer to the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

9. Rollover of Exxon Valdez Settlement Payments:
If you receive a qualified settlement payment from Exxon Valdez litigation, you may roll over the amount of the settlement, up to $100,000, reduced by the amount of any qualified Exxon Valdez settlement income previously treated as a Traditional or Roth IRA or eligible retirement plan in prior taxable years. You will have until your tax return due date (not including tax extensions) for the year in which the qualified settlement income is received to make the rollover contribution. To obtain more information on this type of rollover, you may wish to visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

10. Rollover of IRS Levy:
If you receive a refund of eligible retirement plan assets that had been wrongfully levied, you may roll over the amount returned up to your tax return due date (not including extensions) for the year in which the money was returned.

11. Written Election:
At the time you make a proper rollover to an IRA, you must designate in writing to us your election to treat that contribution as a rollover. Once made, the rollover election is irrevocable.

I. Transfer Due to Divorce:
If all or any portion of your IRA is awarded to your spouse or former spouse in a divorce or legal separation proceeding, the amount so awarded will be treated as the spouse’s IRA (and may be transferred pursuant to a court-approved divorce decree or written legal separation agreement to another IRA of your spouse), and will not be considered a taxable distribution to you. A transfer is a tax-free direct movement of cash and/or property from one Traditional IRA to another.

J. Recharacterizations:
If you make a contribution to a Traditional IRA and later recharacterize either all or a portion of the original contribution to a Roth IRA along with net income attributable, you may elect to treat the original contribution as having been made to the Roth IRA. The same methodology applies when recharacterizing a contribution from a Roth IRA to a Traditional IRA. For tax years beginning before January 1, 2018, if you have converted from a Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA, you may recharacterize the conversion along with net income attributable back to a Traditional IRA. The deadline for completing a recharacterization is your filing deadline (including any extensions) for the year in which the conversion was made or conversion completed. However, effective for tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, you may not recharacterize a Roth IRA conversion.

Limitations and Restrictions
A. SEP Plans:
Under a simplified employee pension (SEP) plan that meets the requirements of Code section 408(k), your employer may make contributions to your IRA. Your employer is required to provide you with information which describes the terms of your employer’s SEP plan.

B. Spousal IRA:
If you are married and have compensation, you may contribute to an IRA established for the benefit of your spouse for any year prior to the year your spouse turns age 70 1/2, regardless of whether or not your spouse has compensation. You may make these spousal contributions even if you are age 70 1/2 or older. You must file a joint income tax return for the year for which the contribution is made.

The joint amount you may contribute to your IRA and your spouse’s IRA is the lesser of 100 percent of your combined compensation or $11,000 for 2018 and $12,000 for 2019. This amount may be increased with cost-of-living adjustments each year thereafter. However, you may not contribute more than the individual contribution limit to each IRA.

If your spouse is age 50 or older by the close of the taxable year and is otherwise eligible, you may make spousal contributions to your IRA along with net income attributable, you may exclude the amount rolled over from your gross income in the taxable year in which the order approving the settlement payment was made to you. For further detailed information and effective dates, you may obtain IRS Publication 969, Health Savings Accounts and Other Tax-Favored Health Plans.

C. Deduction of Rollovers and Transfers:
A deduction is not allowed for rollover contributions or transfers.

D. Gift Tax:
Transfers of your IRA assets to a beneficiary made during your life and at your request may be subject to federal gift tax under Code section 2501.

E. Special Tax Treatment:
Capital gains treatment and 10-year forward income averaging authorized by Code section 402 do not apply to IRA distributions.

F. Income Tax Treatment:
Any withdrawal from your IRA is subject to federal income tax withholding. You may, however, elect not to have withholding applied to your IRA withdrawal if the distribution is applied to your spouse’s IRA. The maximum additional contribution is $1,000 for years 2013 and beyond.

G. Prohibited Transactions:
If you or your beneficiary engage in a prohibited transaction with your IRA as described in Code section 4975, your IRA will lose its tax-deferred status, and you must include the value of your account in your gross income for the taxable year you engage in the prohibited transaction. The following transactions are examples of prohibited transactions with your IRA: (1) taking a loan from your IRA; (2) borrowing money from your IRA for any purpose (present or future) with IRA funds; or (3) receiving certain bonuses or premiums because of your IRA.

H. Pledging:
If you pledge any portion of your IRA as collateral for a loan, the amount so pledged will be treated as a distribution and will be included in your gross income for the taxable year in which you pledge the assets.

Federal Tax Penalties
A. Early Distribution Penalty:
If you are under age 59 1/2 and receive an IRA distribution, an additional tax of 10 percent will apply unless made on account of 1) death, 2) disability, 3) a qualifying rollover, 4) the timely withdrawal of an excess contribution, 5) a series of substantially equal periodic payments (at least annual payments) made over your life expectancy or the joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary, 6) medical expenses which exceed 10 percent of your adjusted gross income, 7) health insurance payments if you are separated from employment and have received unemployment compensation under a federal or state program for at least 12 weeks, 8) certain qualified education expenses, 9) first-home purchases (up to a lifetime maximum of $10,000), 10) a levy issued by the IRS, or 11) active military duty (see Qualified Reservist Distributions on page 12). This additional tax will apply only to the portion of a distribution with respect to which the APY is reduced. A penalty of 10 percent is imposed on the amount of the required minimum distribution which should have been taken but was not.

D. Penalty Reporting—You must file IRS Form 5329 along with your income tax return to the IRS to report and remit any additional taxes.

Other
A. IRS Plan Approval—The Agreement used to establish this IRA has been approved by the IRS. The IRS approval is a determination only as to form. It is not an endorsement of the plan in operation or of the investments offered.

B. Additional Information—You may obtain further information on IRAs from your District Office of the IRS. In particular, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 590-A, Contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), or Publication 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676) or by visiting www.irs.gov on the Internet.

C. Important Information About Procedures for Opening a New Account—To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires all financial organizations to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, you are required to provide your name, residential address, date of birth, and identification number. We may require other information that will allow us to identify you.

D. Qualified Reservist Distributions—If you are a qualified reservist called to active duty, you may be eligible to take penalty-free distributions from your IRA and recontribute those amounts to an IRA generally within a two-year period from your date of return. For further detailed information, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs) from the IRS.

E. Charitable Distributions—If you are age 70 1/2 or older, you may make tax-free distributions of up to $100,000 per year directly from your IRA to certain qualified organizations. Special tax rules may apply. This provision applies to distributions during tax years 2008 and 2009, or until such later time as extended by Congress. For further detailed information, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs) from the IRS.

F. Disaster Related Relief—If you qualify (for example, you sustained an economic loss due to, or are otherwise considered affected by, certain IRS designated disasters), you may be eligible for favorable tax treatment on distributions, rollovers, and other transactions involving your IRA. Qualified disaster relief may include penalty-free early distributions made during specified timeframes for each disaster, the ability to include distributions in your gross income ratably over multiple years, the ability to roll over distributions to an eligible retirement plan without regard to the 60-day rollover rule, and more. For additional information on specific disasters, including a complete listing of disaster areas, qualification requirements for relief, and allowable disaster-related IRA transactions, you may wish to obtain IRS Publication 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), from the IRS or refer to the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

Penalty Exceptions: Penalties will not be applied to any of the following: (a) withdrawals of dividend payments only, (b) withdrawals subsequent to the death of any owner of the IRA Certificate, (c) withdrawals made as a result of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation of the Credit Union, or (d) withdrawals of Required Minimum Distributions (RMDs) (Traditional and SEP IRAs only).

Maturing Certificates: At least 20 days prior to each IRA Certificate’s maturity, Navy Federal will provide a notice specifying the terms under which the Certificate will be closed, and the above penalties will be imposed on the entire principal amount. (e) In accordance with Federal Reserve Regulation D, withdrawals made within the first six days of a new Certificate purchase (not renewed) are subject to a seven-day, early-withdrawal penalty.

(f) There are no IRA Savings or IRA MMSA penalties for early withdrawal. (g) The IRS imposes penalties for withdrawals prior to age 59 1/2 for Traditional/SEP IRAs and for non-qualified withdrawal purposes for Roth IRAs, unless an exception applies (see “Federal Tax Penalties”).

Governing Laws: Your Navy Federal accounts are maintained and governed in accordance with federal law and the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, as amended. Property may be transferred to the appropriate state if there has been no activity within the time period specified by state law.

Transferability: Navy Federal IRA Certificates are not transferable, are not negotiable, and may not be pledged as collateral on a loan.
Final Payment: All non-cash purchases will be credited subject to final payment.

Change in Terms: Navy Federal reserves the right to discontinue or change the terms of IRA Certificate offerings within 30 days prior notice; however, once issued, the terms of an IRA Certificate may not be changed without the owner’s consent.

Note: This account is subject to all terms and provisions defined in NFCU 602 (for Traditional), 602A (for Roth), or 602C (for SEP). Unless otherwise noted, any beneficiary designation(s) currently on file will remain in effect.

Deposits and Transfers/Withdrawals: You may make additional deposits to IRA Savings Accounts or IRA MMSAs at any time. If your IRA Certificate accepts additional deposits and the IRA Certificate has not exceeded its maximum balance, additional deposits can be made by cash, check, or periodic transfer(s) from a Navy Federal savings account, checking account, or MMSA. Deposits may be held for up to five business days. Federal Reserve Regulation D limits the number of pre-authorized, automatic, or telephone transfers or withdrawals from the IRA Savings Accounts or IRA MMSAs to no more than a total of six per month.
