Your Shares at Navy Federal Are Federally Insured
Share insurance coverage is provided by the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), an independent government agency that charters, regulates and insures federal credit unions. Your shares are backed by our solid financial standing. However, the insurance protects members against loss if a federal credit union fails.

Navy Federal’s savings, checking, Share certificates and Money Market Savings Accounts (MMSAs) are insured for up to $250,000.

Individual Accounts
Individual accounts are owned by one member. You are insured for up to $250,000 for combined balances in your Navy Federal savings, checking, Share certificates and MMSAs.

Insurance Coverage Example
Account owner: John Smith
Amount insurance coverage: $250,000

Joint Accounts
Joint accounts are owned by two or more members, to include your Navy Federal savings, checking, Share certificates and MMSAs. Each owner on the account is insured for up to $250,000. The most federal insurance coverage any member can have as a result of joint ownership is $250,000, regardless of the number of joint accounts he or she co-owns.

Insurance Coverage Example
Primary owner: Mark Doe
Joint owner: Susan Doe
Amount insurance coverage: 2 owners x $250,000 = $500,000

Other types of Navy Federal accounts that receive NCUA insurance coverage for up to $250,000:

Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs)

Estate Accounts
A Navy Federal Estate Account is a special savings and/or checking account in which a deceased member’s assets are deposited and subsequently withdrawn by the estate administrator.
