Navy Federal Credit Union Hunter Army Airfield Branch to Sponsor 2013 Savannah Saint Patrick's Day Parade

Participation in Famous Parade Builds On Branch's Strong Community Involvement

VIENNA, Va. (March 12, 2013) – Navy Federal Credit Union's Hunter Army Airfield branch announced today its sponsorship of the 2013 Savannah Saint Patrick's Day Parade. Said to be the world's second-largest parade of its kind, hundreds of thousands of attendees from across the nation flood the city for the event each year.

The branch will feature a patriotically themed float in the parade that will give special recognition to its members – all branches of the military, Department of Defense civilian and contractor personnel and their families.

“We are pleased to support the Savannah community and our servicemembers across the world who protect our nation,” said Drew Nash, Branch Manager. “We look forward to growing our relationship with the city of Savannah and our neighbors.”

Sponsoring the Saint Patrick's Day Parade is part of Navy Federal's commitment to supporting its local communities, and adds to the growing list of community activities in which the branch is involved. Since opening in October 2012, the branch also sponsored Military Appreciation Day at an Armstrong Atlantic University basketball game, Savannah's Flying Fortress 5K Run, and provided a complimentary two-day shuttle service for sailors aboard the USS Monterey from the ship to the branch location, while the vessel was in port.

The branch serves approximately 5,800 individuals in the Savannah area and is also proud to be a member of the Navy League Savannah Council and the Savannah Chamber of Commerce.
