Millennials say Navy Federal is a best place to work
Credit union named one of the “100 Best Workplaces for Millennials”

Vienna, Va. (June 23, 2015) Navy Federal Credit Union announced today it is a “100 Best Workplace for Millennials.” The credit union, serving all Department of Defense and Coast Guard active duty, civilian and contractor personnel and their families, has a workforce of over 12,000 employees worldwide—45 percent of which are in the Millennial age group.

“Millennials are the largest generation in the U.S. workforce, so it’s more important than ever for businesses to do what they can to be attractive to this group,” said Tisa Head, Navy Federal executive vice president, human resources. “Millennials want to feel like they’re making a difference. Navy Federal is fortunate to have employees who truly feel connected to our mission of serving those who serve our country.”

Great Place to Work® selected Navy Federal and the 99 other winning companies based on the evaluations of nearly 90,000 Millennial-aged employees surveyed using the Trust Index®, Great Place to Work’s employee assessment survey. The survey covered areas like the degree to which Millennials are comfortable being themselves in the workplace, their access to special recognition and professional development, the fairness of promotions and pay practices and the level of respect with which they are treated, among many other factors.

“Our credit union works hard to provide Millennials with the best possible business culture,” said Head. “We’re proud to be recognized as a top workplace for Millennials, and we’re excited to keep meeting their needs.”
